IT Employment Continues to Grow In May; Rate of Ascent Slows

Alexandria, VA, June 10, 2011 – Though the rate of growth slowed in May, IT employment continued its pattern of month-over-month growth by adding 1,100 jobs.

According to a monthly index of IT jobs developed and published by TechServe Alliance, a collaboration of IT services firms, clients, consultants and suppliers, the number of IT jobs grew by 0.03 percent in May to 4,008,600 and is up more than 100,000 jobs from May 2010. IT Employment first crossed the 4 million mark in February.

"May marks the 17th consecutive month that the number of IT jobs has increased," observed Mark Roberts, CEO of TechServe Alliance. "While the rate of growth moderated last month, the long-term trajectory of IT employment remains decidedly positive," added Roberts.

IT jobs are found in virtually every sector and industry in varying degrees. The following table presents information about the total number of jobs in certain sectors that provide a significant amount of employment for IT professionals as well as to the number of all jobs.

Technical note: TechServe Alliance's IT Employment Index is the first specific measurement of IT employment. This unique measurement of total IT employment is created monthly by studying the ongoing staffing patterns of a dozen IT and computer related occupations in 22 industries and industry sectors employing significant numbers of IT workers including the manufacturing, wholesale and retail trade, financial, information services, business and professional services, and education and health industries. The monthly IT Employment Index is based on U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) data, which is subject to monthly revisions, and therefore, the Index is revised accordingly. The IT Employment Index is also subject to annual revisions and was benchmarked in February 2011 with the publication of the BLS January 2011 employment report, which included revisions to several years of employment data. The next revision will be published in February 2012.
