IT AND ENGINEERING JOB GROWTH SLOWS IN MAY; ACUTE TALENT SHORTAGE A CONTRIBUTING FACTOR

Alexandria, VA, June 7, 2017 – The number of IT jobs grew 0.1 percent sequentially last month to 5,293,000, according to TechServe Alliance, the national trade association of the IT & engineering staffing and solutions industry. On a year-over-year basis, IT employment grew by 3.3% since May 2016 adding 170,400 IT workers.

Engineering employment increased by 0.1 percent sequentially to 2,558,300. On a year-over-year basis, growth in engineering employment increased by 1.1% since May 2016 or 27,800 engineering workers.

“Both IT and engineering job growth slowed in May,” stated Mark Roberts, CEO of TechServe Alliance. “Given record low unemployment rates, the slow down is largely attributable to the shortage of talent in many high-demand skill sets. We are concerned that some of the legislative and administrative policy proposals on immigration would further restrict the already tight labor supply in many IT and engineering occupations causing work to be pushed offshore -- an undesirable outcome for U.S. firms and workers," added Roberts.

IT and engineering jobs are found in virtually every sector and industry in varying degrees. The following table presents information about the total number of jobs in certain sectors that provide a significant amount of employment for IT and engineering professionals.

Technical note: TechServe Alliance's IT Employment Index and Engineering Employment Index are the first specific measurements of IT and engineering employment. These unique measurements of total IT and engineering employment are created monthly by studying the ongoing staffing patterns of a dozen IT and computer related occupations in 22 industries and industry sectors employing significant numbers of IT workers and nearly two dozen engineering occupations in 30 select industries and industry sectors employing significant numbers of engineering workers. Both the monthly IT Employment and Engineering Employment Indices are based on U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) data, which is subject to monthly revisions, and is revised accordingly. Both indices were rebenchmarked this month with revisions going back several years. The next major revision will be published in February 2018. Additionally, from time-to-time TechServe Alliance reviews and adjusts the algorithm utilized to calculate the indices.
